

NEGRO SOLDIER KILLS LITTLE FAYETTE GIRL

Fearful Crime Near South Elkhorn—Wretch Hurried To Frankfort Pen

Frankfort, Feb. 5—Will Lockett, returned overseas negro soldier, saved from lynching when he was spirited from Lexington to the reformatory here last night, after confessing the killing of Geneva Hardman, a school girl, probably will be tried here on a charge venue. The Fayette Grand jury is expected to indict him immediately.

STORY OF THE AWFUL CRIME

Within a quarter of an hour after she had kissed her widowed mother good-bye at their cottage, near South Elkhorn in Fayette county, and started on her way down Harrodsburg road Wednesday morning to school, Geneva Hardman, 11 years old, was dead, the victim of William Lockett, negro, 33 years old, recently discharged from the army.

Lockett is in jail in Frankfort, whether he was spirited by officers to prevent his being lynched by infuriated men of Fayette, Jessamine and Woodford counties.

Meeting the child on the road, the negro gathered her into his arms, carried her through a gap in a fence into a corn field, where he killed her with a stone. Covering the body with cornstalks, the negro made his way across the cornfield into an open pasture and across that to another road. He was able to elude his pursuers and to cover his trail from bloodhounds until late in the afternoon, when he was overtaken and placed under arrest in Dixontown, 10 miles from the scene of the murder, by Policemen W. C. White, of Versailles, and Dr. William T. Collette, of Versailles.

He at first denied to them that he was Will Lockett and that he was guilty of the crime, but on the way to Lexington he admitted his guilt and begged his captors to hurry him to jail.

At Fayette County Jail Lockett told Detective Captain Thomas Donlan and other officers the details of his crime, and it was decided by County Judge Frank A. Bullock, on receipt of this information and further advice to Chief of Police J. J. Reagan of Lexington that a mob would be certain to form unless the negro could be put out of its reach, that Lockett should be taken away at once, and he was rushed to Frankfort in an automobile.

Later a mob of more than 1,000 men formed at the Fayette County Jail, clamoring for Lockett. Deputy Jailor Foster told them he had been taken away by Jailor Ruben Cropper, Chief of Police J. J. Reagan, Assistant Chief Ernest Thompson and Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Brown.

He told them they were welcome to send a committee through the jail. Ten men were selected, the leader being a brother of the murdered child. When they reported that Lockett was not in the jail someone shouted: "Let's go to Frankfort! A girl in the throng cried out: "Any man who doesn't go to Frankfort to get that beast is a slacker!"

With a shout the mob turned toward automobiles in which they had come from the country, and soon they were on their way to the capital.

Judge Bullock said that special grand jury will be impaneled. "The verdict will be guilty on the negro's own statements and he will be sent to Eddyville and electrocuted."

NOTED FRANKFORT WOMAN DEAD

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5—Miss Elizabeth Smith, 96, daughter of Rev. B. B. Smith, the first Episcopal Bishop of Kentucky, is dead at her home here. For many years she conducted a young ladies' seminary in Frankfort.

Big Building Robbed

New York, Feb. 5—The vault of the Pittsburg Steel Company in the Equitable Building was looted last night by burglars, it was learned today. A large sum in securities was stolen. The Equitable Building is in the heart of the financial district. It houses the New York branch of the Federal Reserve Bank.

Stole Booze From Police Station

Louisville, Feb. 5—So keen is quest for liquor here that two and one-half cases disappeared from Louisville police station. Apparently thieves entered the property room where it was stored as evidence and made away with it.

FINAL ACT IN BAD CHECK CASES

Fines of $100 Against Each of Three Lexingtonians Who Operated Here

The last act in the Lexington "cold check" cases was closed in Circuit Court Thursday morning, when fines of $100 and costs each were imposed upon two of the men and one woman who came over and came so near "putting it over" on local merchants. The action taken is in line with the recent judgment of the Court of Appeals on the cases. The fines imposed were on the cases where the checks the quartet presented were under $20 in amount; in the cases over $20 the charges were dismissed; in line with the appellate court decision that prosecution could not lie until after 20 days and that time had not elapsed before the indictments were found in those cases. The three who were fined are Coy Hatton, alias W. F. Thompson, Hubert McCall, alias Charles Johnson, and Alice McCall, alias Sallie Johnson. Coy Hatton is now in the penitentiary, having pleaded guilty in one case and before the others, all of whom admitted their guilt, escaped further jail sentences through technicalities of the law. The fines imposed were on motion of Commonwealth's Attorney B. A. Crutcher, and upon the consent of the local merchants that the Lexington quartet had sought to victimize.

MAY HAVE TO FORCE HUNS TO GIVE 'EM UP

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Feb. 5—Relations between the Allies and Germany seemed to have arrived at a crisis as a result of Baron Von Lersner's, head of the German delegation here, refusal to forward to Berlin the names of the Germans whose extradition is demanded by the entente. It is pointed out here that measures intended to compel Germany to grant the extradition may be adopted but no intimation of their nature is given.

Huns Say It's Revenge

London, Feb. 5—"The surrender of these is virtually impossible term it how you will," said Minister of Defense Noske, in an interview with the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent, in discussing the demands for extradition of the Germans charged by the Allies with war crimes. He asserted the demand was an act of revenge and declared it they are arrested the people would prevent any train carrying them to cross the frontier. The correspondent adds that the government probably will adopt an attitude of passive resistance to the Allies' demands.

Another Hun Note

(By Associated Press)
London, Feb. 5—The German cabinet has decided to send another note to the Allies calling attention to the fatal consequences which would follow extradition of the Germans demanded for trial by the Allies for war crimes, according to a Berlin dispatch.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Sheriff P. S. Whitlock is improving nicely after his narrow escape in an auto accident a short time ago. He is able to sit up and will soon be out again.

Deputy County Tax Commissioner Will Adams is out looking a little worse for wear after having his head badly mashed in that auto accident on the Lexington pike a few days ago.

Dr. E. E. Edwards, Ben Rouf, and Wm. Walker, of Irvine, were in town Thursday morning, and stopped by to see the Dr.'s brother, Superintendent of Schools B. F. Edwards. They were on their way to Lexington where he has a patient in a hospital.

WHERE EX-SERVICE MEN ARE DISPLACING CIVILIANS

Wholesale cuts in the number of female employees of the bureau of war risk insurance are part of the general plan of the bureau to bring all its employees under the civil service regulations. The places of probably 1,000 of the girls who have been permitted to resign will be taken by an equal number of ex-service men who have qualified by civil service examinations. This photograph shows service men and girl clerical forces working side by side.

TELLS OF GREAT WORK BEING DONE IN JAPAN

Mrs. Stella Lewis Young, a former Lincoln county girl, and a graduate of Madison Institute, lectured at the Christian church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Young has been a missionary to Japan for 14 years. She and her husband have a parish of 30,000 people. Her talk was inspiring, heart-searching and instructive. Mrs. Young said she had no fear of an immediate war between the United States and Japan, but if Japan and China are not christianized the war we have recently passed through is child's play in comparison to the one that will surely come.

The poor equipment and lack of missionaries on the field, are the great hindrance to the advance of the work. The Orient is ready to receive christianity if we are willing to give it to them.

The average missionary is paid $750 a year. Out of that they pay $18.50 a ton for coal, and all other living expenses are in proportion to the price of coal. The H. C. L. has hit Japan at the rate of 200 per cent increase.

The disgrace of the American church is that they ask and expect their missionaries to do their work for them, and at the same time allow them to suffer because they lack the necessities of life.

All alight with her love for the Master and His task, it was only when Mrs. Young was hard pressed and pinned down to answer yes or no, did she confess the sacrifices and trials of the workers on the foreign fields.

When it comes to saving Japan, and the prevention of future war, Mrs. Young said the question was not, "Are we capable enough?" "Are we rich enough?" but, "Are we good enough?"

DR. TELFORD DECLINES TO MAKE "DRIVE"

I see from the Register that I am to make "the drive" in Madison for Near East Relief. It is all a mistake I have no intention of making a "drive" in Madison for this cause. Our people are tired of drives, and the canvassers who "went over the top" again and again during the war, are tired of making drives.

I decline therefore to make a drive in Madison for Near East Relief.

Does this give to some of you who read this a feeling of relief? Or do some of you as they read this call me heartless; and a "slacker?" "Lord how then dost separate the wheat from the chaff!"

Listen Madison! Put your ear to the receiver. There is a long distance call: "America, America, Oh! Oh! America." I hear it as I walk along the street and look into the bright happy faces of home-sheltered, home-cared for children.

"America, America, Oh! Oh! America." I hear it when I look upon or read of wealth and luxury of America. I hear it at my daily meal when I sit down to my own table with my children about me. I hear it in the silence of the night when I awake and the gaunt, pinched, hunger-smitten faces of starving little children rise before me. "America, America, Oh! Oh! America."

It is the appealing cry, not of one little child, but of thousands, not of one desperate, grief-crazed, heart broken mother, but of thousands compelled to witness, in utter helplessness, the sufferings and death of their children by starvation, while their hearts break with agony as they listen to their appeals for bread.

We must get in on this, Madison. We cannot stay out and come clean. Nearly all the other counties of Kentucky are lined up and have raised or are raising amounts asked of them. We must get in on this. There will be no drive. No teams will be sent out to canvass. We are simply going to put before you the facts and publish each day the names and amounts as they come in.

Two summers ago I saw a large group of children playing on a lawn. Their mothers were grouped under the shade of a large tree some distance away. Suddenly from the group of children arose the cry of a child in pain, and instantly one of the mother's broke out of the group of women, and hurried toward the children. On her return I asked her: "Was that your child whose cry I heard?" "Yes." "How could you distinguish among so many children's voices the cry of your child?" Her reply was as beautiful as true: "God has so made a mother's heart that it can always catch the cry of her child." Yes—and God has so made a mother's heart that it can always hear the cry of a child.

I am trusting the mother hearts of Madison to catch, as perhaps we men do not, the appealing cry of the starving little children in the Near East and that cry to the mother heart will I believe, be more potent than drives and canvassers.

The time set for the money-raising campaign throughout the nation is from Feb. 1st to Feb. 22nd. Next Sunday, Feb. 8th, has been designated Near East Relief Day and the ministers of all denominations throughout the nation have been requested to present this cause to their people and support this appeal on that day.

Madison county has been asked to raise three thousand dollars and we are asking for contributions in any amounts from $25 down to one dollar, payable in cash or in monthly payments extending over a period of 12 months if desired.

Subscription or contributions can be left at State Bank Trust Co. or with S. M. Sauley at the Register office, and the amounts and the names of the contributors will be published each day as they are received.

SLICK THIEVES GET ADDING MACHINE

Sunday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock two men and a woman drove up in a Ford car to the Central Service Station and one of the men got out and went into the office and said to Ben Johnson, who was in charge of the office that he had borrowed the adding machine of Mr. Marion Lilly and had called to get it. Not suspecting anything wrong, Johnson turned the machine over to him. Marion Lilly was in Lexington that afternoon and on his return Monday it was ascertained that he had not loaned the machine to any one. The machine was a Burroughs' Adding Machine, costing $125 of which the style number is 301 and the serial number is 360,581. Clues to the guilty parties are being followed and the police think they are on the hot trail.

BANKS MAY LIST LIBERTY BONDS AT PAR

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 5—Comptroller of Currency Williams today announced a ruling that "for the present" national banks will be permitted to carry liberty bonds in their list of assets at the price they paid for them and not at the prevailing market quotations. Williams stated there is no cause for anxiety on the part of investors because of the recent decline in the market value of liberty bonds. He said their fall is no reflection upon their intrinsic value and desirability.

HEAVY SNOW STORM IN EASTERN STATES

(By Associated Press)

New York, Feb. 5—States along the Atlantic Seaboard from Southern New England to Virginia, are now bound today as a result of the worst snow storm of the winter. The fall ranged from a foot in Pennsylvania to three inches in Virginia. High tides at Brooklyn washed a summer hotel into the bay. In Long Island Sound three steamers are fast in the ice. A 50-mile gale clogged the streets of this city with drifts, demoralizing transportation.

TOBACCO MAY BE HIT AT FRANKFORT

"Coal" Senators Put Over Resolution To Investigate Levying of More Taxes On It

Frankfort, Feb. 5—The senate agriculture committee today decided to postpone until next Tuesday decision on the Sims' bill which prohibits parimutuel betting, when advocates of the race tracks will be heard.

By a unanimous vote the senate passed the Simmons bill prohibiting wages on horse races except at races and licensed race tracks. This is practically the anti-handbook bill which was beaten in the house. It provides a penalty of from 30 days to 12 months in jail for violation.

The tobacco industry may be made to pay much higher taxes in this state and the revenue lost by the elimination of liquor manufacture be made up to some degree from this source as a result of a resolution adopted by the senate yesterday. It was offered by Senator Auxier of Pikeville, and provides for an investigation of the production to determine how much, if any, is escaping taxation. The preamble to the resolution recites that whereas the state would lose $1,500,000 annually in revenues formerly obtained from intoxicating liquors, that the tobacco industry ought to be investigated to determine if a special or excise tax could be levied on it to help make up this loss in revenue. Senators from the tobacco growing districts were worried over this resolution. Senator Jay Harlan, of Boyle, author of a resolution to investigate the mineral resources of the state to determine their value, charged that the resolution was a retaliatory measure aimed at the tobacco districts. He said that a lobbyist for the coal operators stated that "the senators from the tobacco districts will regret that they passed the coal resolution for the coal men will make them sit up and take notice." The vote was 20 to 16 in favor of the resolution-Senator Clarence Miller, of Irvine representing the Madison district, voted for it.

The bill of Senator Haynes Carter, to provide for the separate confinement of the criminally insane, passed by 30 to 1.

Senator Carter offered a resolution for an investigation of the Fish and Game Commission, which was passed.

Representative Neel called on the Committee on Kentucky Statutes to report Senate Bill No. 2, which passed the upper house Jan. 23. This bill provided that sheriff's settlements and the financial condition of a county might be published in any newspaper of wide circulation in a county instead of requiring publication in full in a paper having the largest circulation. The committee reported adversely to the bill, after much debate and the house sustained the committee thus killing the proposed bill and leaving the law as it has been.

Representative Hebron Lawrence offered a bill seeking to place a 10 per cent tax on gate receipts, purses and premiums of race tracks. A bill by Representative Kennard prohibits the playing of base ball on Sunday.

A 3-cent tax on each ton of coal mined in the state is proposed in a bill by Gevedon. The money accruing is to go to the school fund.

Representative Leonard Ballard, of Madison, offered a bill to abolish the office of trustee of the jury fund, in line with Gov. Morrow's suggestion.

The bill of Representative Henry Kaufman places the salary of truant officers in cities of the first four classes at not more than $3 a day.

A bill by Roy J. Cain allows the sheriff $1 a head for each unlicensed dog he kills.

A bill by Senator Jay Harlan prohibits antedating marriage licenses; requiring licenses to be issued four days before the marriage ceremony.

The senate recessed while the members presented a handsome silver set to senator and Mrs. Merriwether Smith, of Mercer, bridal couple. The presentation speech was made by Senator Clarence Miller, of Estill. In his response Smith urged the bachelor members to "go thou and do likewise."

Bad Weather Trade

Ever hear of a hardware store ending out rain checks? When the Swalm Hardware Co., of Ottsville, Pa., said it would do so, people sat up and took notice, for the suggestion was something new, at least in these parts.

The Swalm Co. and the weather man have been at odds all fall, with rain on every job every time the store staged some special sale. The goods were on hand, and the money had been spent for advertising and window trimmings, so the firm decided to go ahead and hold its merchandising events whether it rained or not. To bring out those who won't go out where save to the theatre or circus when it rains "rain checks" were issued, and all those who bought on rainy day sales—which were distressingly frequent—were given slips good for ten cents on any dollar or every dollar's worth bought at the store at any time.

Now when it rains here people wonder if they need anything at Swalm's.

More Wathen Whisky Seized

New York, Feb. 5.—Four carloads of whisky valued at $600,000, were seized at a North River pier by order of John J. Quinley, assistant federal prohibition agent, and transported under an armed guard to a bonded warehouse. The shipment, which included 4,798 cases, was packed for medicinal purposes, but Mr. Quinley held that the law had been violated, as the shippers, R. W. Wathen & Co., distillers, of Louisville, Ky., had no permit to ship it. The goods were consigned to "order."

At Latonia $28,000 worth of whisky was stolen by means of an underground passage to a bonded warehouse.

MANY ERRORS IN ARTICLE ON FERTILIZER

There were so many typographical errors and otherwise, in the article on Fertilizers, written for the Daily Register yesterday by a well known farmer who is an expert on the subject that the Daily Register reprints it again today. It is timely and well worth reading by everyone who wants to maintain and improve the quality of his land.

High priced land and it is all high priced these days, demands 100 per cent upkeep and the maximum dividend profit. Tired, worn and run down land has come to be a liability rather than an asset. We can no longer afford to keep this kind of land.

That tired or worn out land can be rebuilt is not a theory. It is a fact proven by thousands of cases in every state in the Union. There is but one way in which soil can be rebuilt and that way is through fertilization. Fertilization means returning to the soil what has been taken from it by constant cropping, wrong rotation and abuse.

Manure provides the best remedy. Its benefits are well known to every tiller of the soil. Where it fails is in the scarcity of it. The next best thing will be found in that kind of mineral fertilizer most compatible with each particular territory, which, naturally is determined by ascertaining what the underlying base consists of.

In Central Kentucky, for instance, the underlying foundation is limestone. Lime, therefore, is necessary for the maximum growth of all plants that reach the ideal stage in the virgin soil of this territory. No plant reaches an ideal development here unless the full and proper amount of lime is forthcoming from the soil.

In this territory virgin soil will produce almost the maximum yield of tobacco and corn. A second and third crop, and so on, will yield less and less until the mineral wealth of the soil is entirely exhausted, leaving a dead barren waste. We undertake to avoid such destruction by rotation of crops and the planting of legumes, such as clovers, alfalfa, and the like.

A liberal application of ground limestone will check this destruction quickest. The drawback here, however, lies in the enormous expense. Few landholders are willing to bear the burden. Follows, then, the usual endeavor to rebuild with clovers attended all too frequently, by disastrous loss in the way of "no stand" or a poor "stand," the loss of seed and labor, and the loss of the use of the land for one or two years.

This uncertainty can be avoided in a practical, reasonably, certain and commercially profitable way. It is in the use of manufactured fertilizers containing a high percentage of burned lime. This kind of fertilizer provides sufficient stimulation to start the growth of the plant and it's full development is assured by the lime. It can be reclaimed and returned to maximum fertility in this way; the use of burned lime fertilizer in conjunction with leguminous crops. So much for practically desolated land.

The use of high percentage lime fertilizer on sour or acid soil (we call it tired land) resolves itself into a business proposition. Virgin soil here will produce an almost maximum yield of corn or tobacco for years. Then it begins to degenerate. This degeneration or loss of yield is being, and has been for years, profitably checked by proper use of soil building fertilizers.

The third crop of corn or tobacco will be made equal to the first if the proper amount of limed fertilizer is applied. A second crop of either corn or tobacco make the soil sour. Lime returns it to normal sweetness. For this reason the use of high percentage limed fertilizer places the soil in just as receptive condition for the third or fourth crop as it was in its virgin state.

The third crop of corn or tobacco without limed fertilizer or manure, will fall off one third. With limed fertilizer it will equal the first crop. This kind of fertilizer can be applied in any part of Central Kentucky at a cost of $4 to $7 per acre. Whether the restoration of that one third capacity yield will justify the investment depends, of course, on the market value of the crop.

Another point worthy of serious consideration is the fact that limed fertilizer is a permanent soil builder in Central Kentucky, because it combines with all free acids in the soil, thus acting as a soil corrector. Limed fertilizer in any quantities necessarily adds fertility to this territory in proportion to the amount applied. For this reason every crop, including blue grass and fruit trees, is strengthened by it.

With present high prices of land and food products the farmer in Central Kentucky who does not lime his cultivated land is neglecting a golden opportunity to increase his income.

CLARK DEMOCRATS FAVOR HOOVER

A great many of the democrats of Clark county are strong for Food Administrator Herbert Hoover for the democratic nomination for President, according to former Circuit Judge J. M. Benton, who was over Tuesday for the opening of circuit court. Judge Benton says that he is finding much Hoover sentiment everywhere. Asked what Hoover's former republicanism might have, he replied that if Hoover is good enough for Woodrow Wilson, he is good enough for him.

Steer Feeding Shows Results

In a steer-feeding experiment conducted last year on the Government farm at Beltsville, Md., four lots of 2-year-old steers were fed. The purpose was to compare cottonseed meal and soaked velvet beans when used with and without the addition of shelled corn.

The addition of corn to a ration composed of corn silage, cottonseed meal, and wheat straw did not pay. The addition of corn to the ration of velvet beans and corn silage was profitable. The lot received corn silage and soaked velvet beans with a small quantity of cottonseed meal as an appetizer produced the most economical gains and showed the greatest profit, even though the daily gains and the selling price of the cattle were lower than those of any of the other lots.

Lalley Light and Power Prevents Fire on the Farm

Lalley-Light removes one of the greatest bugbears of farm life—the danger of fire from oil or gas.

Every time you light an oil lamp in your house you know that the peril of fire lies there.

Every time your hired man carries a lantern into the barn you know there is the risk of its being overturned by man or beast.

Lalley-Light does away with open flame, with matches, with inflammable fuel.

It removes entirely the possibility of danger through fire or explosion.

Its safety alone is a reason why you should have it. But we can show you hundreds of other reasons why you cannot afford to be without this up-to-date labor-saving, money-earning device. You are losing money every day by not having it in your home.

OVER $2,000,000

Of Real Estate Sold By Swinebroad, the Real Estate Man, of Lancaster, In 1919.

OVER 10,000 ACRES
At An Average Price of More Than $200 Per Acre

Swinebroad is now listing farms, preparing his catalogues and fixing his dates for 1920. His territory covers about 15 counties in Central Kentucky.

If you want to buy real estate now is the time to get in touch with his "Real Estate Headquarters".

Swinebroad also has offices at Danville, Ky., in charge of W. E. Moss, who has been with him over two years.

Swinebroad is one real estate man who believes in advertising, having spent over $10,000.00 in newspaper advertising last year and he is thus enabled to give service, and service is what the public is looking for.

The real estate business is a profession, and the same ethics of the profession must prevail in order to succeed as in any other profession or business, and success is not to be measured in dollars and cents alone, but in the clientele the real estate broker holds and the reputation he makes for fair dealing and a judge of values.

Years of experience and a close study of past and current financial conditions are necessary for him to become an expert judge of present values and future probabilities.

The real estate farm broker should have an actual and practical experience in farming to be able to judge of the adaptability of certain soils to certain crops. In other words, he ought to know just what he can do with any farm before he can advise with a prospective purchaser with reference thereto. Swinebroad has this experience and will not offer for sale a farm or other property unless in his judgment the price asked will justify a purchase.

Select the man with whom you desire to transact real estate business with the same care you select your physician, your lawyer or your banker, whether you want to sell or want to buy. Your savings of a life time, or your future financial condition may be at stake. If you cannot trust your real estate broker don't do business with him. When you select your real estate broker list your property with him exclusively (talk this proposition

Remember Swinebroad "Always Sells", so if you want to buy or want to sell real estate give Swinebroad or Moss an opportunity to talk it over with you. Just a little with them may make or save you money without cost to you.

Swinebroad deals in real estate not only as a broker but as a purchaser. If you want to sell be sure to see him. If you want to buy he has farms and other real estate of his own for sale.

SERVICE IN QUALITY

You need somebody to take care of your clothes-requirements; we're making it the one object of our existence as a business to do that for the men of this community.

We're here to see that you get what you ought to have, at a price as low as we can live on. We know that there have been times when men have come to us for things that we couldn't supply.

It's disappointing to any merchant to have a customer come to him for goods, and to be obliged to see him go out without buying because the merchant didn't have what was wanted. We can always have clothes here to sell; but that isn't the point.

We don't want simply to make a sale, and get the money. We're interested in what you get for the money; the quality of the clothes, being the most important thing to you, is the most important thing to us. And the right kind of quality in clothes has been scarce. We'd rather not sell you anything than sell you the wrong thing. You can buy the wrong thing in many places; but not here.

There's service in quality like Hart Schaffner & Marx, and that's the service in clothes which we mean to give.

The Victor is known all over the world for its fine tone qualities, and is a machine known for the reproduction of "His Master's Voice." During the past year there were more Victors sold than any other machine on the market. Owners of the Victor machine wouldn't exchange it for any other machine manufactured, and it gives satisfaction the year round.

You make no mistake in selecting either of these splendid machines, and we feel justly proud that we were able to secure the selling rights of these standard machines.

We have a full line of these instruments in stock, and you are invited to come to our store and let us play over the latest records for you.

The Edison machine is in a class all its own. In several of the large music stores in this country, the dealer has a revolving table with 10 different talking machines thereon. He plays each machine for the customer, and then he concludes with the Edison to prove its high tone qualities above all other machines.

The Grafonola talking machine is fast becoming the popular machine for the American people. Only recently a dealer of Lexington, Ky. offered to purchase $200,000 worth of these instruments if he could secure the exclusive agency in that city. The offer was turned down, as there are ten or more dealers there whose sales on the Grafonola run up into the thousands of dollars each year.

INCOME TAX MEN HERE THIS WEEK

Deputy Revenue Collectors J. O. Gaines and Scobee are in Richmond at the federal building, to assist any local income tax payers in making out their reports, if such assistance is desired. The two revenue men will be here only the remainder of the week.

A word of warning to Income-tax payers is contained in a statement given out by Internal-Revenue Collector Elwood Hamilton, who points out that returns must show all items of taxable income for 1919.

"Guesswork, estimates, an other hit-or-miss tactics are barred when a person is making out his Income-tax return. Accuracy and completeness must be insisted upon. And remember, the returns is a sworn statement; as such it must be thorough and accurate."

Salaries persons and wage-earners must not confine their returns to figure showing a year's pay at so much a day or so much a week. The actual amount drawn should be ascertained and reported. Overtime, bonuses, shares in the profits of a business, value of quarters and board furnished by the employer, and a number of other items of similar nature, which are compensations for services, are taxable as part of the year's earnings and must be included.

Income Not Always Cash

It must be borne in mind that compensation may be paid in other forms than in cash. A bonus paid in Liberty Bonds is taxable at the market value of the bonds. A note received in payment for services is taxable income at its face value, and the interest upon it is also taxable.

Premiums paid by an employer for life or other insurance in favor of employees is additional compensation to the employees.

The income-tax does not apply to amounts received under accident and health insurance, or under workmen's compensation laws; and damages recovered by suit or settlement for injuries or sickness is also exempt.

Tips received by waiters, porters and others are taxable income or such donations are in recognition of services and are not gifts.

A pension paid by an employer or by the U. S. Government is taxable income.

come. A widow who received payments in recognition of the services of her late husband may construe such payments as gifts.

Aside from what a person may earn by his services, there are many other sources of income. He must include in his annual reckoning the gains he made in business and other ventures; also the income that his money and property earned.
